We have a wide variety of gorgeous designer modeled gowns and dresses pictured on our site. Our goal is to bring those designer modeled quality gowns to our customers at off the rack prices! Although we do design and manufacturer our own custom gowns, all of the designer gowns pictured on our website are not our designs. We make closely replicated versions of those gowns. In making a replica of any designer gown, we cannot guarantee that the replicated version will look exactly like the original designer modeled picture that is on our website. Our goal here at Dress Of Amy Lee Bridal is to come as close to the original designer modeled picture as possible. If you wish to see some of the gowns we have replicated for our previous customers, please let us know and we would be happy to send you pictures. You will be amazed what we can do!
